

EntorgE (pronounced entourage) is a rapidly emerging international electronic music star. Under a variety of aliases, he has thrilled crowds from Europe to Los Angeles with his energetic performances and innovative productions. Now, he is out to take his career to the next level.

EntorgE first established himself as a producer by collaborating with A-List talent across Europe. Word of his signature blend of progressive house and dubstep quickly, giving EntorgE the opportunity to move to Los Angeles, where he immersed himself in the local EDM scene.

“Music is part of who I am,” he explains. “I want to create a good, energetic mood with every song and performance.”

Influenced by Avicii’s progressive house and hard-driving dubstep, EntorgE is currently working on creating new tracks that showcase his unique sound. From electro pop-bangers to intricate melodic compositions, his futuristic style is unlike anything else. With new releases scheduled for 2021 and beyond, EntorgE is set to be a fixture in electronic music for years to come.
